

reflection

*By definition we are all human beings, yet, there are things about each of us that make us unique.
We are male and female.*

Take a few minutes to reflect on the unique qualities you have as a male or female and how they differ from the other sex.

Write your thoughts here. You might also like to write a prayer to thank God for the amazing creation of humans.

