

It is important to understand what body parts you have, where they are in your body and their correct names, so that you can talk to trusted adults about what you're experiencing if you ever have any concerns.

1. Match the name of the male reproductive system body part with the correct description. (You can colour match the body part to the description, or draw a line to join them up.)

Penis.	Pouch of skin that the testicles hang in below the penis.
Testicles.	Tube that carries the semen through the penis and outside of the body during ejaculation. The urine also passes through this tube, but never at the same time as the semen.
Scrotum.	The tube that transports the semen which contains the sperm, from the epididymis to the ejaculatory ducts.
Urethra.	Hang in the scrotum and produce hormones including testosterone and produce the male reproductive cell called sperm.
Vas Deferens.	The male sexual organ. Can be flaccid (soft, floppy) or erect (hard, straight).
